

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Laurin Swango was born Laurin McClain in 1983 in Lewisville, Texas. She now enjoys being a stay-at-home mom in Old Town Lewisville. Having always been an artist, Laurin gained artistic knowledge and skills from her dad, aunt and many art teachers throughout her school years. She is thankful for unfailing support and encouragement from her family.

Laurin took the AP art program in high school and later studied Graphic Design at ATI in Dallas. She has worked as a freelance artist since junior high school and has print shop experience as well.

Any talents that Laurin has were given to her by God, and she hopes to use them well. Laurin's biggest goal in life is to be like Jesus and live with him in Heaven.
